

File a Claim

If you've lost your job in Kentucky, you can File a Claim at the Kentucky Career Center's website.

Eligibility

You must be unemployed through no fault of your own, as defined by Kentucky law. Here are the three primary ways you may lose your job and how each relates to your Eligibility for benefits:

- Layoffs due to “downsizing” or a reduction-in-force will qualify you for benefits.
- Firing for reasons related to misconduct makes you ineligible for benefits. However, if you're fired simply because you weren't a good fit or lacked the skills to perform the job, you may be able to collect.
- Quitting your job will make you ineligible for benefits unless you can prove there was a compelling work-related reason that forced you to leave (e.g., sexual harassment, dangerous working conditions). You may also qualify if you meet certain compelling personal reasons, such as moving with your partner if he or she is relocated by the military.

You must have made a certain amount of money before losing your job, which is calculated by your base period. Your base period is the earliest four of the five completed calendar quarters before you filed your benefits claim. For example, if your claim was filed on Oct. 10, 2019, your base period would be the 12-month period beginning July 1, 2018, and ending June 30, 2019. In Kentucky, in order to be eligible, you must meet the following wage requirements:

- You must have received wages of at least $750 in at least one quarter.
- Your total base period must be at least one-and-a-half times the wages in your highest quarter.
- Your total wages outside of the highest quarter must be at least $750.
- Your wages in the last two quarters must be at least eight times your weekly benefit rate.

You must be able to work, available to work and seeking employment. If you find a suitable position, you must accept it. Suitability varies depending on your skill set, training, salary and more. Over time, if you still haven't found work, you may have to compromise on a job that doesn't quite match what you were doing before.

Duration of Benefits

Kentucky residents can collect unemployment benefits for a maximum of 26 weeks, with additional weeks during times of high unemployment.

Weekly Benefit Rate

You may receive somewhere between $39 and $415 per week.
